

AURA Private Banking - AML & Sanctions Policy

Section 1: Transaction Monitoring and Alert Thresholds

All transactions exceeding $10,000 USD (or local equivalent) are automatically logged in the AURA AML system. For transactions exceeding $50,000 USD, structured screening against PEP, SDN, and global sanctions lists is performed in real-time. Transactions that trigger anomalous activity flags (e.g. rapid succession transfers, shell company interactions) will automatically trigger a level 1 AML investigation.

Section 2: Sanctions and SDN Screening Rules

AURA mandates screening of all parties (senders, receivers, intermediaries) against the OFAC Specially Designated Nationals (SDN) list. If a name match occurs with a confidence score exceeding 85%, the transaction is put on immediate administrative hold. The compliance team must file a Suspicious Activity Report (SAR) to FinCEN within 30 days of the alert, and under no circumstances should 'tipping off' of the client occur.

Section 3: Escalation and Reporting Channels

All suspicious transaction alerts must be triaged by a Level 1 analyst within 4 hours. If suspicious activity is confirmed, the case must be escalated to the MLRO (Money Laundering Reporting Officer) via the internal secure communication channel. MLRO decisions on transaction blocks are final and must be logged in the database.
